Couponing is making a comeback but can be a bit overwhelming. At this workshop, an experienced “couponer” will take the confusion out of couponing and help put $ back in your wallet where it belongs. You will learn how to gather and organize coupons efficiently, learn tips on using online resources, as well as how to effectively use coupons. Space is limited so register early to guarantee a spot!

Pre-registration is required. To register or for additional information, please call Madison County Extension Center at 828-649-2411.
